Welcome

We wish to welcome you to services at the Pearl Street church of Christ. If you are a visitor with us today, know that you are an honored guest. We invite you to join us each time we meet together for worship and Bible study.

Just A Thought

⁴Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. ⁵It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. ⁶Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. ⁷It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.

⁸Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will be stilled; where there is knowledge, it will pass away.

1 Corinthians 13:4-8

Today's Bible Reading

Philippians 4:1-3, English Standard Version.

“¹Therefore, my beloved brethren whom I long to see, my joy and crown, in this way stand firm in the Lord, my beloved. ²I urge Euodia and I urge Syntyche to live in harmony in the Lord. ³Indeed, true companion, I ask you also to help these women who have shared my struggle in the cause of the gospel, together with Clement also and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life.”

Paul's Portion

Whether you feel that Valentine's Day is a made up holiday to boost candy, flower and card sales, or a day of romance one thing that can not be denied is that Valentine's Day is associated with love. The thing about love is that it takes on many forms. Love can be walking hand in hand along a moonlit beach. Love can be gazing longingly into the eyes of your soulmate. Love can be a husband doing the dishes one evening and allowing his wife to relax with her feet up. Love means going above and beyond for the one you love. Love means overcoming any and all hurdles and obstacles in the pursuit and practice of that love. As the song states, “Ain't no mountain high enough, Ain't no valley low enough, Ain't no river wide enough, To keep me from getting to you.” This is slightly different from the young suiter who told his intended, “I love you. I would swim the ocean for you. I would climb the highest mountain for you. I would cross the desert for you. I will see you tonight as 8:00, as long as it doesn't rain.” This begs the question of what will one do for love? Women would like it if their husbands would reflect Ephesians 5:25, “Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her” in their lives. When asking what one would do for love we also need to examine the other areas of love. Would you, for instance, go to greater extremes for romantic love than you would for love of a good cheeseburger? In the production A Chorus Line there is the song, “What I did for love.” Part of the lyrics of this song are as follows, “We did what we had to do, Won't forget, can't regret, What I did for love.” The song speaks of what Broadway performers have gone through for their profession and how they have no regrets, because they did it all for the love of their craft. As Christians we need to ask the question of what will we do for love in relation to love for God. In Matthew 26:33 Peter told Jesus, “Though they all fall away because of you, I will never fall away.” Peter made this statement to show Jesus how much he loved Him, yet shortly after this Peter denied Jesus three times. Peter, at this point, was like the suiter mentioned earlier. Are we willing to go to the extremes in regards our love for Christ? Are we able to say that we will do it all for love, with no regrets? Christ did.
