Today's Bible Reading

Philippians 4:10-13, English Standard Version.

“<sup>10</sup>I rejoiced in the Lord greatly that now at length you have revived your concern for me. You were indeed concerned for me, but you had no opportunity. <sup>11</sup>Not that I am speaking of being in need, for I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content. <sup>12</sup>I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. <sup>13</sup>I can do all things through him who strengthens me.”

Paul's Portion

It is a joy to play “hide and seek” with little children. Finding them, however, usually isn't much of a challenge. It can be rather comical to see what little children consider to be hiding. If any part of their body is concealed they think that they are hidden. It does not matter that the rest of their body is sticking out in plain sight. They also will hide in obvious spots, or in the same spot every time. It is almost as if the child wants you to find him quickly. This may or may not be true with children, but it is true with the Lord. Though the Lord isn't really hiding one still has to find Him. Knowing that mankind must find Him the Lord made it as easy as He could. Jesus gave us the reassuring words in Matthew 7:7, “seek, and you will find”. Earlier in scripture God inspires Jeremiah to pen, “You will seek me and find me, when you seek me with all your heart.” Jeremiah 29:13. If we wish to find the Lord it is easy, all we have to do is seek Him with all of our heart. This could be tricky with some people, because they are trying to find the Lord with their eyes and/or with their minds. It seems rather foolish to seek the Lord with our eyes since He is the invisible God, Colossians 1:15. It is also rather foolish to seek the Lord with our mind since His wisdom and ours are basically incompatible. That just leaves the heart. Another fun thing about playing hide and seek with children is that sometimes after they find you they will continue to seek you. I don't know if they don't want the fun of seeking to end, or if they don't want to acknowledge that they have found you, or if they really don't understand that their seeking is over. This is cute with children seeking adults, not so much with people seeking God. Yet, we do see this occurring. People at times will be unsatisfied when they do find God, because it is not as they expected or because they are simply looking for something more. We need to learn to stop seeking when we have found the Lord. It cracks me up when people say, “it was in the last place I looked.” Of course it was in the last place you looked. Even if it was in the first place you looked it was still in the last place you looked, unless you kept looking after you found it. We would not do this when looking for our keys or our glasses, so why do people continue to look for God when they have found Him. Seek the Lord, find Him and rejoice.

Just For Fun

The new minister stood at the church door greeting the members as they left the Sunday morning service. Most of the people were very generous telling the new minister how much they liked his message, except for one man who said, "That was a very dull and boring sermon, pastor."

A few minutes later, the same man again appeared in line and said, "I don't think you did much preparation for your message."

Once again, the man appeared, this time muttering, "You really blew it. You didn't have a thing to say, pastor."

Finally, the minister could stand it no longer. He went to one of the deacons and inquired about the man.

"Oh, don't let that guy bother you," said the deacon. "He's a little slow. All he does is go around repeating whatever he hears other people saying." Internet
