Welcome

We wish to welcome you to services at the Pearl Street church of Christ. If you are a visitor with us today, know that you are an honored guest. We invite you to join us each time we meet together for worship and Bible study.

Just A Thought

A professor of psychology decided to give his class of forty students a test of word association. He instructed them each to write the word “Christmas” on their piece of paper. After they had all complied he then instructed them, after the word “Christmas,” to write the first thought that flashed through their minds. Each student did as they were instructed. When the papers were collected the professor observed that the students had written such thoughts as; “tree,” “holly,” “mistletoe,” “presents,” “turkey,” “holiday,” “carols,” and “Santa Claus,” but not one had written “birthday of Jesus Christ,” or any reference to Jesus. While it is true that December 25th is most probably not the actual day for Jesus’ birth it has been assigned to that date since roughly 450 CE. It is disheartening, therefore, to see how commercialism and worldly festivities have shoved Jesus out of the spotlight.

Today’s Bible Reading

Matthew 1:23, English Standard Version.

“²³Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and they shall call His name Immanuel” (which means, God with us).”

Paul’s Portion

We are in the midst of the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season. This is not to suggest that there is not hustle and bustle during all of the other seasons. Actually, one would be hard-pressed these days to find a time that is not full of hustle and bustle. We have taken the concept of keeping busy to astronomical heights. Thinking back to an episode of the “Andy Griffith Show” where a visiting preacher admonished the good people of Mayberry for their hectic schedule one has to laugh. Why, because, their “hectic” lifestyle would be considered one of leisure today. Every generation probably thinks it is more harried and hectic than the preceding generations. With the demands of society evolving with each generation, this assumption is probably accurate. It is hard to imagine, however, that any future generation will be more hectic than the current one. We are constantly on the go and on the job. When we are not actually in the office we are still connected by email, cell phone, and numerous other social medias. When our children are not in the classroom they are running to sports, or other extra curricular activities, or connected to the internet to finish homework. The rest of their time they are connected to phones, video games, etc. In our hectic lives are we taking time for the important things? When it comes to time management we need to take a lesson from Jesus. Even though Jesus lived centuries before the time draining gadgets and activities that we have today; He was still plagued with a hectic lifestyle. Practically everywhere that Jesus went He was mobbed by hordes of people demanding His time and attention. Often Jesus was so pressured by the crowds that He did not have time to eat or sleep. Jesus, however, knew how to prioritize His time as we see in Luke 5:15-16, “¹⁵But now even more the report about Him went abroad, and great crowds gathered to hear Him and to be healed of their infirmities. ¹⁶But He would withdraw to desolate places and pray.” Jesus understood that there was no time demand that was as important as taking time in solitude praying. Everyone in every generation, in every society needs to take time out of their harried lives to follow Jesus’ example and pray. You will be surprised how less hectic your life will become. It is even better when you share this time of prayer with others, thus helping them to be less hectic. Try it today.
