Extol

Psalm 117:1

Welcome

We wish to welcome you to services at the Pearl Street church of Christ. If you are a visitor with us today, know that you are an honored guest. We invite you to join us each time we meet together for worship and Bible study. If you have any questions about any aspect of our worship service, or the church of Christ in general, we would love to answer those questions for you.

Just A Thought

On the Lord's day a group of missionaries and believers in New Guinea were gathered together to observe the Lord's Supper. After one young man sat down, a missionary recognized that a sudden tremor had passed through the young man's body that indicated he was under a great nervous strain. Then in a moment all was quiet again. The missionary whispered, "What was it that troubled you?" "Ah," he said, "But the man who just came in killed and ate the body of my father. And now he has come in to remember the Lord with us. At first I didn't know whether I could endure it. But it is all right now. He is washed in the same precious blood." And so together they had Communion. It is a marvelous thing, the work of the Holy Spirit of God. Does the world know anything of this?

Weekly Memory Verse

Genesis 24:1, ¹Now Abraham was old, well advanced in years. And the LORD had blessed Abraham in all things.

Today's Bible Passage

Psalm 117:1 English Standard Version.

¹Praise the LORD, all nations! Extol Him, all peoples!

Paul's Portion

There is an expression of which many are familiar; "The poor devil". This phrase is used to express sympathy to someone who has experienced some great trauma in their life. It seems like a poor choice of words. If the person is already going through some great traumatic event in their life why would you add insult to theme by associating them with the devil. This then begs the question of whether the person is deserving of our sympathy to begin with. Which brings us to a second question. Is the devil deserving of our sympathy? Here we have a creature who rebelled against God and the utopia that Heaven is. We have scriptures such as ¹⁵See that no one repays anyone evil for evil, but always seek to do good to one another and to everyone. (1 Thessalonians 5:15) In this passage Paul is not really addressing the devil, rather he is dealing with Christians' relationships with one another and those outside the Church. The same could be said for, Matthew 5:44, ⁴⁴But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you." There probably is not a worse enemy to Christians than the devil. Some might say, "What good would it due to pray for the Devil. There is no escaping the fate for the devil. No matter how many times you pray for the devil, and sympathize with him he is not going to change and he will not get a get out of Hell free card. One need to remember that it was for the devil and his angels that hell was created, Matthew 25:41. So, again the question is asked, "Should we have sympathy for the devil?" The answer to that question is, "Yes". We are to show sympathy to the devil and say "Poor devil." but not so much his sake as ours. As already mentioned we are to pray for those who persecute you. We also learn from Matthew 5:14&15 that if we want to know forgiveness we have to forgive. There is not an addendum to that passage that excludes the devil. I believe that when Jesus cried out "Forgive them for they know not what they do" (Luke 23:34), He was referencing the soldiers and the religious leaders, but also the devil. It is obvious that the devil did not know what he was doing, or he never would have let Jesus be crucified. Therefore, we should say "poor devil" remembering that but for the grace of God there go we, and what does it cost us to show sympathy to our enemies including the devil.
