Jesus' Family Thought He Was Crazy

Early on, as Jesus chose His apostles, taught truth, and worked miracles, His “mother and brothers” (Mark 3:31) were very concerned: “But when His own people heard about this, they went out to lay hold of Him, for they said, ‘He is out of His mind’” (3:21). Why might they have thought that Jesus, as the New American Standard says, had “lost His senses”? Some possible ideas might be...

1. He had left His home, His business and any income.
2. He was on a collision course with the religious elite.
3. He had attracted a varied, strange group of followers.
4. He had started forgiving the sins of other people.

But these things, instead of making us think Jesus was crazy, lead us to appreciate Him all the more. Using the same four points we say...

1. He was willing to dismiss His own earthly security.
2. He was willing to set aside His own personal safety.
3. He was willing to live beyond the verdict of society.
4. In forgiving, He showed Himself to be God's Son.

He was not crazy, beside Himself, or out of His senses. He knew what He was doing every step of the way. He was showing who He was. And by example He was showing us how to live today!

Just For Fun

A preacher wanted to rent a house in the country. The only available house was rumored to be haunted. Not believing in ghosts the preacher rented the house.

On his first night in the house a ghost appears. The preacher tells his friends, but they are skeptical and ask for a picture as proof. The preacher gets his camera and waits for the ghost. When the ghost appears the preacher asks the ghost if he can take its picture. The Ghost agrees so the preacher snaps its picture. However, when the film is developed the ghost is not in the picture.

Frustrated, and a little angry the preacher calls for the ghost. When the ghost appears the preacher shows it the picture and asks for an explanation.

The ghost thinks for a minute then says, "I guess the spirit was willing but the flash was weak."
