Revelation 21:4

Welcome

We wish to welcome you to services at the Pearl Street church of Christ. If you are a visitor with us today, know that you are an honored guest. We invite you to join us each time we meet together for worship or Bible study. If you have any questions about any aspect of our worship service, or the church of Christ in general, we would love to answer those questions for you.

Just A Thought

Each day God gives you thousands of reasons to smile, so do not focus on the one or two reasons that the world gives you to frown. Choosing to smile is like looking at a garden and admiring the hundreds of beautiful flowers. While choosing to frown is like looking at a garden and seeing only the few weeds interspersed among the flowers.

Weekly Memory Verse

Matthew 1:17, ¹⁷So all the generations from Abraham to David were fourteen generations, and from David to the deportation to Babylon fourteen generations, and from the deportation to Babylon to the Christ fourteen generations.

Bible Quiz Time

What were the two store cities built for Pharaoh by the Israelites while in captivity?

Today's Bible Passage

Revelation 21:4, English Standard Version.

⁴He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away.

Paul's Portion

Sometimes it is surprising that there are people who still refuse to believe in God. The psalmist says that it is the fool who says that there is no God. He also stated that the heavens declare the Lord's praise. It is also surprising that there are people who refuse to believe in Jesus. That He is the Christ, that He died, was buried, and rose on the third day. John wrote that there are three that testify to the validity of Jesus, the Spirit, the water, and the blood (1 John 5:6-8). This should be enough to set the matter to rest, however, there are those who are slow to believe. This really should not be surprising seeing how there are many in the world still today who refuse to believe that the earth is not flat, and that we have sent men to the moon. Never mind the abundance of evidence that science has provided to prove the non-flatness of the earth, and the reality of space travel; since these people do not understand how such things could be possible, they refuse to believe it. Thus, if they can not understand and believe this physical world which they can see and experience, how can they be expected to understand and believe the supernatural world which they can neither see nor touch? Therefore, the Christian should simply write this people off and move on, correct? On the contrary it behooves the Christian to go the extra distance to acquire the necessary knowledge, skills, and abilities to reach these non believers. After all Peter said in 1 Peter 3:15 that the Christian should always be ready to give a defense for what he believes. Similarly, Paul writes to Timothy in 2 Timothy 2:15 that he is to be able to rightly handle the word of truth. Peter and Paul's words are still true for the Christian today. Let the nay sayers doubt the validity of the moon landing. Let the skeptics question whether the earth is round or flat. Disbelief in these matters may get you a bad grade in school, or some weird looks from fellow human beings, but in the end it really doesn't matter if you believe in a round earth, that we landed on the moon, or that the moon is made out of green cheese. However, to doubt the evidence and not believe in God, Christ, and the Holy Spirit, matters a great deal. especially in the end. The unbeliever, the unrepentant, the unbaptized need to open their hearts, minds and senses to the reality of God, His word, the Godhead, and all that they encompass before it is too late.

Just for Fun

"I never go to church," boasted a wandering member. "Perhaps you have noticed that?" "Yes, I have noticed that," said the minister. "Well, the reason I don't go is that there are so many hypocrites there." "Oh, don't let that keep you away," replied the minister, smiling blandly. "There is always room for one more, you know."
